Can I switch my Adobe licenses between Windows and OS X?

With the growth of “switchers” now that intel macs have been out, a lot of people are curious about being able to use their windows licenses for mac products. While you cannot use the same license code for the same product on multiple platforms (e.g. Photoshop on Windows for Photoshop on the Mac), you can call in and have it changed over!

Details are here, and I’ve found Adobe to be very prompt and helpful in getting an activation code for their CS3 trial.
