How can I access campus administrative data?

UCLA’s administrative campus Data Warehouse is called the QDB (Query DataBase). For information on what is included, how to access it, and up-to-date news and information on the many QDB datamarts, go to:

http://www.qdb.ucla.edu/

As of March 24, 2010, AIS recommends using Firefox – some Query Studio functions still don’t fully work in Internet Explorer.
