Does UCLA have an electronic version (like a .ics) of the academic calendar that I could add to my computer or mobile device?

All archived calendars are available at: http://www.registrar.ucla.edu/Archives/Academic-Calendar-Archive.

The Registrar's Office is currently working on making an .ics file available for the academic calendar. The best method would be to screenshot the current year's academic calendar, save it as a pdf, and then save it on your computer or transfer to your mobile device. Otherwise, you would have to go and manually add in every event in the calendar into iCal.

Term calendars, available at http://www.registrar.ucla.edu/Calendars/Term-Calendar, do have .ics files for download.

Current calendars are available at http://www.registrar.ucla.edu/Calendars/Overview.
