Software at the TLC and Who Has Access

Access to the Technology and Learning Center

The Technology and Learning Center is not an open-access lab; all users must have a center account in order to log in and use the workstations. To apply for an account, users must fall into one of the following groups:

School of Medicine student
School of Nursing student
School of Public Health student
ACCESS Program student
Neuroscience PhD student
CHS intern or resident (housestaff)
CHS fellow

How to Get an Account

The application form can be downloaded in Adobe PDF format from the TLC website and is also available in a holder outside the center office. Fill it in and give it to lab manager or assistant; completed forms can also be faxed to 310.825.0465 or mailed to Technology and Learning Center, UCLA Biomedical Library, 12-077 Center for Health Sciences, Box 951798, Los Angeles, CA 90095-1798.

Software

Adobe Acrobat 9 Pro
Adobe Life Cycle Designer ES 8.2
Adobe Creative Suite 2.0: Photoshop, Illustrator, GoLive, InDesign scanner stations only
Apple QuickTime 7.5
ArcGIS
Beyond Heart Sounds
Cute FTP 8
EndNote X1
Epi Info
Gene Discovery Lab
Heart Sounds and Murmurs
Internet Explorer 7
Macromedia Studio 8 scanner stations only
Microsoft Office 2007: Access, Excel, PowerPoint, Publisher, Word
Quark Xpress 5.0 scanner stations only
QuickTime Player 7.6
R

RealPlayer Enterprise 6.0
PCALC
PowerDVD DX
Python 2.5
Roxio Creator DE
SAS 9.2
SPSS 17 stations 33-63 only
STATA 9
TreeAge Pro 1.5
Windows Media Player 11