

Web tools for scheduling a meeting

I've used <http://doodle.com> a few times to quickly arrange meetings, but now I'm running into some limits and am looking for alternatives. I'll list my comments as I find them. Please add if you know any.

- <http://doodle.com> – Free, and very easy to set up and use. Doesn't require login or $$ but right now I need something that isn't tied to specific dates. I want to know generally, which days are available.
- <http://www.jifflenow.com/> – apparently synchs with your schedule.
- <http://scheduleonce.com>
- <http://www.diarised.com/>
- <http://whenisgood.net/>
- <http://www.pointment.com/>
- <http://www.presdo.com/>

A lifehacker post about diarised has links to other lifehacker posts about whenisgood, pointment, presdo and the already mentioned doodle.
